

Hansard Prototype 1804–2004

What is this site for?

This site has been sponsored by Parliament in order to test and demonstrate user interfaces for historic data, certain functionality and for other exploratory work. Information used to make this site has been provided by the Hansard Digitisation Project, directed by the Directorate of Information Services of the House of Commons and the Library of the House of Lords.

How can I change what happens on this site?

If you have a complaint, observation or suggestion for this site we'd be glad to hear it. Under current resource constraints, we can't offer any guarantee that we'll be able to take up all suggestions, but we'll certainly read them all.

What's this site's relationship to Parliament?

The time and resources used to generate this site have been and continue to be paid for by the House of Commons and the House of Lords. This site is not part of the official Parliament site, nor is it intended to become part of the official site in its current form. This site is supported only on a best efforts basis. This site is not supported by the Department of Information Services and comments should not be directed to them or to the Web Centre.

Disclaimer

What's the status of this site?

This site is generated from information from Hansard, the Official Report of Parliament. It is not a complete nor an official record. Material from this site should not be used as a reference to or cited as Hansard. The material on this site cannot be held to be authoritative. Speakers names, the dates of first and last speeches, offices held and other data are identified from available contributions, which may not be complete. Information presented here is generated from the available XML files: there are likely to be errors, omissions or repetition.

What's going to happen to this site?

This site is an experiment. Elements of the site are likely to change without notice. Functionality provided by the site may be altered, become unavailable, change behaviour, or be removed entirely. URLs may change without notice. The site may be unavailable for periods without notice. The site may be withdrawn entirely without notice. No guarantees of uptime, speed or service are offered.

Copyright

Material on this site remains under Crown and Parliamentary Copyright. Within these copyright constraints, you are encouraged to use and to explore the information provided.
