RE: HERITAGE WEEK REGISTRATION INFORMATION

A Chara,

Heritage Week will run from 25th August to 2nd September 2007

Again this year, the website www.heritageweek.ie will provide information on all events taking place around the country and from March 31st you will be able to register your event directly online.

All promotional materials, including print and radio advertising, will carry this website address so we encourage you to ensure that the information online is accurate and complete.

The Heritage Week Programme of Events (booklet) listing all events, which will be distributed to Tourist Offices, libraries and Local Authorities, will take its information from what you enter on the website so we ask you to pay special attention to how your information is presented.

Registering your event online is a simple straightforward process but should you encounter any difficulties please contact us during regular office hours for assistance. Registration form needs to be returned to us by June 22 if you are unable to register online. Applications received after this date will not be listed in the booklet.

Only online registration of events will continue to be accepted after June 22nd until 21st August but due to time restrictions these cannot be included in the booklet. To continue the great success of last year, we encourage local event organisers to work together with other related groups and with the local heritage officers to ensure scheduling of events for an area is considered in advance.

We hope you will join us once again this year in celebrating Heritage Week and continue to build awareness and appreciation of our built, natural and cultural heritage.

Our CallSave number is 1850 200 878 or email us at events@heritagecouncil.com for further information.

Yours sincerely,

Niamh Barrett, The Heritage Council , Rothe House, Kilkenny.
Heritage Week Co-ordinator
