

Extraordinary CELT Meeting 29th October

On Monday the 29th of October an extraordinary meeting of CELT members, tutors, directors and volunteers will be held to deal with issues regarding the past, present and future management of CELT.

This meeting will be facilitated and coordinated by Aidan Corcoran, a neutral third party with some experience and training in system management and conflict resolution. In order to set the agenda for the meeting Aidan is asking that interested parties make written submissions to better inform him and to assist him in setting an agenda for the meeting.

Submissions should be sent directly to Aidan by email or post (contact details below) as soon as possible, preferably before the 20th of the month.

Suggestions and criticisms are welcome as well as outlines of how people see CELT developing in the future.

All submissions will be confidential and everybody's anonymity will be respected, so please feel free to air your grievances. It is important to deal with as many issues as possible. Submissions should be full, frank and to the point.

Some suggested areas of focus are:

Communication systems

Office / Management systems

Definition of CELT

Health and safety

Future direction

Course development

Expanding CELT activities

Other issues

Contact details for Aidan are as follows;

Aidan Corcoran,
c/o Mark Brown and Melanie White,
Coolaun,
Tuamgraney,
Co. Clare

Email aidan.corcoran@ucdconnect.ie or kingofdublin@oceanfree.net
ph: 086 069 8930

Please take this opportunity to have your say and contribute to the future development of CELT.

>> ALSO PLEASE TAKE NOTICE of our forthcoming CELT A.G.M. <<
taking place on
WEDNESDAY the 14th of NOVEMBER.

Please help to put the word out and we hope to see you there.